

Staff

Augmentation

success through quality

Perhaps the biggest challenge confronting companies and IT departments today is the pressure to respond effectively to changing technologies and shifting resource demands.

Increasingly, companies are turning to IT staff augmentation as a solution. Doing so creates budget flexibility, allows internal resources to focus on core competencies, and allows for rapid deployment of resources when needs change.

For many members of the Fortune 1,000, DISYS has become the IT staff augmentation provider of choice. We offer a full range of IT services from staffing solutions to project lifecycle support. As a certified Minority Business Enterprise, we assist companies with achieving both their diversity goals and their project goals. Our highly-skilled IT consultants are considered some of the best in the business, and we provide a level of client service and attention to detail that is unmatched by our competitors.

“As a certified minority business enterprise, we assist companies with achieving both their diversity goals and their project goals.”

Our experts are available for projects of any size, ranging from small initiatives requiring just a few consultants to ongoing projects involving hundreds of professionals. We conduct all required background checks, reference verifications and drug testing, thus reducing or eliminating recruitment costs for our clients.

Why Choose DISYS?

In addition to our commitment to quality, DISYS offers clients a nationwide and international network of offices, staffed by highly trained IT staffing experts. This allows us to:

- Identify resources who may be unavailable to other IT staffing firms.
- Respond quickly to even the largest requests.
- Provide clockwork deployment.

Further, we guarantee total client satisfaction. Our IT professionals are carefully selected to ensure they offer the skills, experience and culture needed by the specific client to whom they are assigned. If for any reason a consultant does not meet the client's needs, we immediately take any steps needed to resolve the situation.

Success in using an IT staff augmentation service depends on having the right business partner. At DISYS, our quality-focused recruiting and staffing methods ensure that you get the right people, with the right skills, at the right price. Talk to us today to learn how DISYS delivers results.
